GLOWING TRIBUTE IS PAID TO FARM

Coolidge Points to Farm As Glowing Example For Other Industry To Follow

Prosperity of Nation Based On Farm

(By Associated Press)

Great Barrington, Mass., September 30. — Governor Coolidge, the scion of a New England farming family, today set the farm before the country as a shining example of the way industry, transportation and mining should follow to best work out the nation's economic future.

Contrasting the uninterrupted production of the farm with conditions in other lines, the Governor said a grave responsibility rested alike on management and employees to bring their activities up to the farm standard of continuous operation.

"There is before us," he said, "a prospect the most promising that ever lay before a nation in all history. We can put forth our honest efforts and reap a great reward. We can act the part of economic slackers of conscienceless profiteers and reap a corresponding harvest of destruction. The farm of the nation is setting a shining example. Let the rest of the country look at it, appreciate it and imitate it. And let everybody remember so long as the farm prospers the nation can prosper and when the farm fails the nation fails with it.

Governor Coolidge addressed a county fair crowd here. "Agriculture is the basic activity of all mankind," he said. "In the nation the yearly value of its products reaches the stupendous sum of $25,000,000,000. The importance of agriculture lies in the fact it is the source of all human activity and that the sustainer of all human efforts. It replenishes the nation. Without it our country would perish in a day."

MOONSHINE IS TURNED LOOSE IN CITY STREET

Crowds Block Traffic When The Officers Consign Liquor To The Gutter.

One Man Scoops Up The Liquor And Takes Drink From Hands

(By Associated Press)

Danville, Va., September 30.—Revenue agents poured out on the streets here today two hundred gallons of moonshine whisky captured in a recent raid. One of the bootleggers, who attempted to escape, was slightly wounded.

As the heavy rain was slung against the pavement, a deep stream of "white lightning" hugged the curbing and made for the nearest drain, spreading its rich aroma as it went.

Crowds that watched the "wrecking crew" blocked traffic, and every time a runlet was broken a groan went up.

John Lee Anderson, a negro, could not resist the temptation. He straddled the stream, cupped his hands and regardless of other foreign matter drank deep and long. He was taken to the court house and fined.

"Hard Boiled" Smith's Release Is Learned.

Pardon Approved By The War Department

(By Associated Press)

New York, September 30.—Frank H. (Hardboiled) Smith, former army lieutenant convicted by court martial of brutal treatment to prisoners in France, was paroled from Fort Jay, on March 20, after he had served less than nine and one-half months of his eighteen months term.

This was made known today by the military authorities at Governor's Island, after a search of records at Fort Jay had cleared up the mystery surrounding what disposal had been made of Smith.

It was said at Governor's Island the order for Smith's release had been issued by the Adjutant General's office at Washington and had been approved by the Secretary of War.

Military authorities said they were uncertain as to Smith's whereabouts, but believed he had returned to his home in Ohio.

Vice-President Says All Departments To Reopen Monday

(By Associated Press)

Toledo, O., September 30.—Clarence A. Earl, vice-president of the Willys-Overland Company, announced late today that all departments of the plant will be reopened Monday.

The announcement followed one of yesterday that for the remainder of the current week all departments but several devoted to parts and employing about 2,000 would be shut down.

(By Associated Press)

Toledo, O., September 30.—Toledo plants of the Willys-Overland Company were closed down yesterday and today, following the layoff of 4,500 men and women workers.

Less than two thousand remain to operate the plant the rest of the week when they reopen tomorrow. Normally, there are between 12,000 and 14,000 employees. Those released yesterday were instructed to report Monday morning, by which time officials say it will be known definitely whether the plant will operate on a three-day-a-week basis or remain closed until conditions in the automobile industry get back to normal.

Falling off in the demand for automobiles generally throughout the United States is assigned as the cause of the drastic curtailment of production.

ACCUSES HARDING OF WET VOTING

Cox Declares Opponent Voted Wet 32 Times and Dry Twice During Fight in Senate

Says He Would Have Cast Dry Vote

(By Associated Press)

Hutchinson, Kans., September 30. — Governor Cox declared here today that he would have voted dry on prohibition had he been acting under the same circumstances as Senator Harding his Republican opponent, who the Governor declared, "had voted 32 times wet and 2 times dry."

He had been asked by a person in the audience if Senator Harding had not voted three times in favor of prohibition.

"There were 34 votes direct or indirect on the prohibition enforcement measure in the Senate. Senator Harding voted 32 times wet and two times dry," Governor Cox replied.

"Under the same circumstances would you vote dry?" the questioner demanded.

"I would," replied the governor. Criticizing Senator Harding's league position the Governor said:

"Senator Harding has been speechless during the last few weeks on the league. He wants to keep Johnson and Borah, who are against the league and he wants to keep Taft and Wickersham who are for it."

CORN CUTTING 18 TO 40 CENTS

Corn cutting prices in Fayette county run all the way from 18 cents to 40 cents per shock, depending upon the size and condition of the corn and how bad the owner wishes to have it placed in the shock.

The 40 cents is by far the exception, and is only being paid where the corn is heavy and badly tangled and the owner wishes the ground cleared so that wheat may be sown.

Cutting corn is now general and every available man is being utilized.

Even some of the loafers have disappeared from the city streets as a result of the heavy demand for cutters and the attractive wages, paid, although invariably the demands of such workmen are turned down in short order because they are deemed excessive.

One instance is cited where two men, after being hauled to the farm, demanded 40 cents for corn that should be worth about 25 cents to place in the shock.

"You fellows are price cutters," declared the farmer. "I wouldn't think of paying less than 50 cents," and with this grim joke he turned the two men loose and let them return to town.

HE NEEDED MONEY UNTIL FRIGHTENED

A colored man, talking in a whisper and declaring he had been gassed, while in service in France and was now in urgent need of money to carry him to friends in Cincinnati, applied at the Red Cross headquarters this week. He put up a strong argument for aid, but was not prepared for the careful scrutiny which is characteristic of Miss Mary Robinson, in charge of local headquarters.

When the mentioned Cincinnati friends Miss Robinson immediately asked him for names and addresses, and then announced she would call them up. This alarmed the fellow and he excused himself to "get a cocoa-cola," and evidently hurried from town as he failed to return.

He was only one of numerous deadbeats who apply for aid and are speedily shown up by Miss Robinson.

INJURED MAN IS CRIPPLED FOR LIFE

Reports from Chillicothe state that Charles B. Cole, of Bloomingburg, this county, who sustained a broken back in an accident near Athens while employed on a B. & O. bridge, will survive the injuries, but probably will be crippled for life.

He is still in the Chillicothe hospital and one section of his spinal column was shattered. He is recovering slowly.

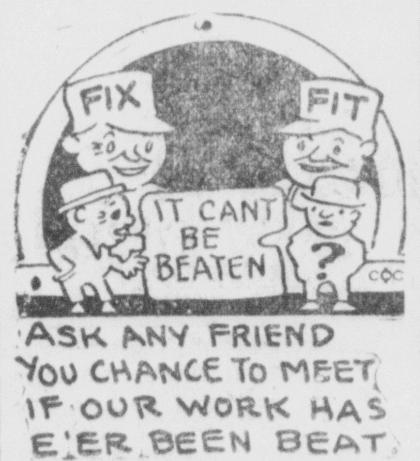

The accident occurred when a jack slipped and the handle hurled Cole and another workman 25 feet to the rock below, Milton Cooper, of Athens also was seriously injured.

Mr. Cole is well known and highly respected in the Bloomingburg community, and his friends deeply regret the misfortune which befel him.

No Reduction Necessary when We Didn't Raise the Price

Early this year we purchased heavily of Casings and Tubes at last year's prices. Casings and Tubes advanced from 20% to 35% on March 8th this year. Instead of advancing our retail prices to the level of the new raise we have been selling all that we purchased under our old contract at the old prices.

This is Our Fixed Policy

We have still between $15,000 and $20,000 of that stock which will be sold according to that fixed policy.

Had we marked up our prices beyond the fair profit under our invoice prices when the manufacturer raised his prices we should be able today to make a paper reduction; as we DID NOT, we are able to sell quality tires now for the same prices which prevail (including reductions) anywhere.

HARD GAME AHEAD FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Hillsboro Held Fast Xenia Team to Low Score and Has One of the Heaviest Teams in Several Seasons.

Washington High School's football squad is training this week with a view to facing some strong opposition Friday afternoon when the Hillsboro High gridders play on East End Park against the Blue and White.

On last Friday in their first game of the season against the strong Central High team of Xenia, Hillsboro was defeated but held the score close, 10 to 6. Hillsboro's backfield is unusual heavy and is relying on a smashing attack to batter down opponents. Washington backers are confident that the Blue and White line is capable of holding after seeing it in action against Greenfield last Saturday.

FORCEFUL LETTER OF REV. DAMRON RECOMMENDS NERV-WORTH HIGHLY

Proctorville, Ohio, Minister's Letter Tells Impressive Story of Benefits Received By Himself And His Wife.

"My nerves were so racked that I could not sleep until after midnight, and I would almost jump out of bed," said Rev. Damron in a letter written some time ago. "After taking half a bottle of Nerv-Worth, I could sleep almost as well as when I was a boy. My wife had rheumatism in her hip joints so that she could not stoop down and rise up without help, and her system was run down and she was not able to do any work without great pain. After taking 2 bottles of Nerv-Worth, the rheumatism had disappeared, and her blood is as good as when she was a child, and she weights more than she has for 20 years. I recommend Nerv-Worth as the greatest remedy that I have ever found. I cannot praise it as it deserves." The above is but one of many weighty statements from one of the ministry. Such statements offer the most conclusive proof, and nothing further by way of explanation need be added to them. Give Nerv-Worth a trial, and if your first trial bottle does not prove satisfactory, your money will be refunded. You will finally come to Nerv-Worth for satisfactory results, so why not come today? Be sure to get the genuine in the large round bottle. Price $1.25 plus war tax. Sold by Brown's, Christopher's and all leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Wanted: A Change

That mental attitude of the people, which finds expression in the demand for a change in existing conditions, seems difficult for those political leaders, to whose aspirations such an attitude is harmful, to explain or even to understand.

The political leaders, who desire the present regime to be retained in power, point out, vehemently, that the people are prosperous, that work and money are plentiful and that, while high prices have prevailed and still prevail, the people have more than they ever had before in the history of the nation and are able to acquire the things they want with less effort than ever before.

That's all true too, but there is something else, beside material prosperity, the people desire to make them content and that is peace of mind. Money can't buy contentment.

While there is an abundance of money in circulation, while the demand for work was never greater and the reward for work never more generous and while those who have been comparatively poor heretofore, possess more now, in comforts and luxuries, than ever before, yet, with it all, there is a feeling that conditions are not healthful. People are continually worried about whether, with the money they earn, they can buy the necessities of life.

We are short of homes, we are short of building materials, we are short of coal and have been short of sugar—at least we have been told that—and the cost of maintaining a roof over the family, the cost of food to keep life in our bodies, the cost of fuel to keep the home fires burning is so appallingly high and the ability to secure those, and other necessities is so doubtful that people feel themselves on an insecure foundation.

There is general belief that the control of the necessities of life have been acquired by middlemen and profiteers whose chief purpose is to rob the people.

The buyer in the markets of the country today, with his pockets full of money, receives no more consideration, no matter how much he desires to buy, from the upstarts who have planted themselves between the producers and the retailers, than the beggar formerly received from the tradesmen of the days before the present regime in business assumed power.

Transportation is uncertain. There is no assurance when consignments of necessities can be delivered and, with it all, we have the constant interference of governmental departments without accomplishing anything of real good.

We have passed through a summer season when nature's abundant fruit crop should have been canned for winter use, compelled to pay a three hundred percent increase on the necessary sugar and deprived of a sufficient supply, even at exorbitant prices, by the market manipulators.

We enter into winter with empty coal bins after months of vain endeavor to secure fuel and offers to pay out of our abundant means, almost any price demanded. The weeks and months of anxious endeavor and pleading with those who could have furnished relief brought us nothing but anger and resentment against the conditions which baffle us at every turn and make a torment of our days.

The great majority of people feel that regardless of their material prosperity, conditions are unwholesome and they want them changed. They may make a mistake in their votes, but it is not likely.

Perhaps no other officials could have prevented the coming of the present unwholesome conditions as a result of the world war upheaval, perhaps they have done better than others would have done under similar conditions.

We are inclined to think that we have emerged from the war under conditions which are the cause for congratulation, but that does not dispose of the demand for a change.

Perhaps it is unfair to charge the present official family with responsibility for conditions—unavoidable results of war—but even so the majority of the voters, right now, are of the opinion that the only way to make a change is to make it from top to bottom and it will require some tremendous upheaval to change the present determination.

It's no wonder the people "want a change." Whether our political affiliations are such that hearing that demand or recognizing the state of the public mind which prompts that expression, is pleasing or distasteful to us, it exists nevertheless and seems destined to be the biggest single factor in shaping the election results.

Many people may not realize exactly what it is they want to change, or how the change may be correctly brought about, but they are conscious of the existence of a vital need for a change.

POETRY FOR TODAY

LAUGH IT OFF

If the weather looks like rain,
Laugh it off.
When you feel you must complain,
Laugh it off.
Do not sit and nurse your fears,
Waste no time in useless tears,
Put your faith in smiles and cheers,
Laugh it off.
If man say you're looking ill,
Laugh it off.
Should they recommend a pill,
Laugh it off.
Doctors, druggists and disease
Want to do just as they please,
Often you can save the fees,
Laugh it off.
If life seems to go dead wrong,
Laugh it off.
Drown your sorrow in a song,
Laugh it off.
Do your work with smiling face,
Look ahead and keep the pace,
Be a winner in the race,
Laugh it off.

HARDING SHOWS NEW CONFIDENCE IN THE RESULTS

Has Lost Early Timorous Diffidence

Ready Answer to Heckler At Baltimore Wins Applause It Deserves.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

On Board the Harding Train, September 29.—I have heard Senator Harding deliver some twelve formal speeches during this campaign, beginning with his acceptance speech. In the formal speeches of his present trip and in the shorter greetings at the train stops, the difference between the Harding of the acceptance speech and the Harding of the present was easily marked. Senator Harding still has, at the beginning of his speeches, enough of engaging shyness to enlist from his audience just the degree of sympathetic regard that makes the atmosphere friendly. But he no longer has that timorous diffidence which marked every sentence of his acceptance speech in July.

Everybody around him has noticed the change. It is deeper than the mere overcoming of diffidence in speechmaking. But it is in his speechmaking that it is most apparent.

All his circumstances, of course, have tended to bring about the change in him; but so far as it can be said to have an identifiable connection with any one event, that event was his speech at Minneapolis some weeks ago. That was his first trip away from the front porch. He embarked upon it with a diffidence that was easily apparent to those about him.

Gain Self Confidence

But the Minneapolis speech was a conspicuous success. He felt the respect and affection of the huge audience that heard him there, and thereafter he approached his speeches with assured self-confidence. After the Minneapolis visit he was ready to take on the world at speechmaking.

There were two episodes in his Baltimore speech when Senator Harding partly through being forced and partly because he felt like it, was moved to depart from his set speech and strike out alone without the support of his manuscript. One of the ventures called for graceful feeling and the other called for boldness. To both calls he measured up.

On one occasion he had just come to the point in his manuscript which said, "We are through with one-man government." He said it with strong emphasis and got applause in proportion. Some one in the gallery took advantage of the pause to heckle him.

The question in effect was, "Will you stand with Johnson on the League?"

The audience plainly disapproved the interruption, for Baltimore is probably more punctilious than any other city in America about courtesy to a visitor.

Quick to Answer

But Senator Harding waved the audience back into their seats and strode with firm dignity to the edge of the platform. Tying the situation up to the words of his speech in a manner that called on him to be mentally quick on his feet, he answered:

"If this were a one man government, then I should be able to tell you what will be done." The quickness and appropriateness of the answer and the mental ability that used the occasion to illustrate his philosophy of the President won the applause they deserved it. Then at the conclusion of his speech Harding took up the question and dealt with it fully, making an extemporaneous close to his speech, which certainly the audience listened to with even more lively regard than to the formal speech.

Unless a man has plenty of money and a wife who can cook eating is a nuisance.

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

This call of President William Oxley Thompson is ringing to the four corners of the globe to alumni and ex-students, bidding them return to the campus for Ohio State's Golden Birthday party to be celebrated October 13 to 16.

Though still an infant in years when compared to many eastern schools, Ohio State has made good use of its fifty years of life, and at present, stands looking toward the rising sun of prosperity.

Reunions have been held at various times at Ohio State but never before this year has an attempt been made to bring back all "wandering" sons to the Alma Mater.

For more than a year plans have been in progress for arranging for the Semi-Centennial. Alumni lists have been in progress for arranging for the Semi-Centennial. Alumni lists have been checked and rechecked and publicity of the Golden Jubilee spread broad cast.

Interest has been aroused among the alumni and ex-students and indications point to a record breaking crowd of "old timers" flocking back for their school's birthday party.

Mrs. Daniel H. Van Winkle entertained the Tuesday Bridge Club, with two tables of additional players at a luncheon, of beautiful appointments Tuesday.

DR. JACKSON IS SOON TO RETIRE

That Dr. J. C. Jackson, former superintendent of the Chillicothe District of the Ohio Conference, M. E. Church is soon to retire from the active ministry is indicated in a letter recently written to a friend in which he says:

"After today my address will be 1719 Hutchins avenue, Portsmouth, O. We shall live next door to our daughter there, Mrs. R. S. Kyle, who is instructor in French and Spanish in the Portsmouth high school. I shall have charge of a small, suburban church in East Portsmouth, called 'The Terminal' Methodist Church, that part of the city being named from the railway connections terminating there. It is according to the eternal fitness of things that this should be the name of probably my last pastoral appointment."

MERCURY FALLS LOWEST MARK OF THE SEASON

Thermometer Falls 52.6 Degrees in Three Days With Frost Predicted For Thursday Night.

Reports issued by William Arthur, United States weather observer, show that the lowest temperature of the season was reached some time Wednesday night when the mercury descended to 39.4 degrees.

There were no traces of frost although the mercury was below the frost line of 42 degrees. The reason was that the night was cloudy and there was a stiff breeze blowing.

The local observer said that indications pointed to frost Thursday night, but that a change in the direction of the wind might lessen the frost danger.

Since Sunday the thermometer has fallen from 92 to 39.4 degrees, a difference of 52.6 degrees in three days.

RED CROSS ROOMS READY FOR CLASS

Classes Are Being Formed in Home Hygiene Study As Enrollment Grows Larger Each Day.

Arrangements have been completed for opening the Home Hygiene classes on the first of October with equipping of the rooms for use during the course of study under Miss Faulkner, trained nurse from the Cleveland offices of the Lake Division Red Cross.

Nearly all equipment and materials necessary to conduct the class are on hand. Ample room for the large enrollment promised will be available.

At a meeting of Y. W. C. A. members one evening this week eighteen business girls signed for a Business Girls' Class at 5:30 o'clock on Thursday evenings. There is still room for two or three others in this class.

Other classes are being formed as enrollments come in and a Friday night class will probably be organized and also afternoon classes.

CHILICOTHE TO HAVE BOND ISSUE

In order to meet financial obligations Chillicothe has authorized a $20,000 bond issue in order to handle a shortage of $14,000 in the Service Fund and $5,500 in the Safety fund.

The question of disposing of the bonds now looms before the city.

It is estimated Chillicothe will fall short some $40,000 in its operating expenses for the year 1921.

COLD WAVE FINDS REPAIRS UNREADY

Thursday's unexpected cold wave found students in the high school building and Old Central shivering in their seats because heat was not available.

Repairs on the heating system are being made and will soon be ready to connect up with the big boilers.

SHRINE BAND TO HOLD CONCERT IN H. S. AUDITORIUM

The sudden cold wave necessitated "some scurrying" on the part of local Shriners and a change of location for tonight's concert by the Aladdin Shrine band of Columbus.

The local committee rose to the occasion amazingly and, refusing to have their enthusiasm dampened, proceeded to make arrangements for the giving of the concert at the High School Auditorium instead of at Oak Lawn Park.

The announcement that the concert will be held in the High School Auditorium comes as welcome news to the shivering public, eager to hear the concert, but appalled by the sudden drop in temperature.

The concert will be given at eight o'clock and at its close the dance will be held in the Oak Lawn Park pavilion, which is enclosed and made comfortable for the occasion.

The big High School building will amply take care of the crowd. The immense corridors and study rooms will be seated and for this kind of a concert with its tremendous volume of sound, seats outside of the auditorium itself will be just as good or better.

In fact everything points to an even larger crowd than would have been at the Park. Older people who cannot go far from home will be able to reach the High School building.

A treat of such magnitude as a concert by the Aladdin Shrine band, prize winner over twenty-eight Shrine bands in a national contest, will certainly draw the greatest throng ever in the High School building.

MAKE HEADWAY ON ROAD REPAIR

In many parts of Fayette county, during the past few weeks, repair of the roads has been under way with the result that most of the roads will be in good shape for winter, although some of the roads still need quite a bit of attention.

One of the roads receiving needed attention was the Danville pike from the intersection of the Bloomingburg and Midway pike to the county line south of Danville. Crushed stone and gravel have been applied so that the road will not be bottomless in some places like it was last year.

ENROLLMENT GROWS IN HIGH SCHOOL

Slowly but surely the enrollment in Washington High School is approaching the 500 mark and before the end of the first semester will probably exceed those figures.

Principal Probasco announced Thursday that 293 students are enrolled and that this is an increase during the first month from 289.

HOUSTON ANSWERS HARDING

(By Associated Press)

Washington, September 29.—Criticism of the treasury plan of war and post-war financing in recent speeches by Senator Harding drew a statement tonight from Secretary Houston, in which he accused the Republican presidential nominee of a "partisan attempt to deprive the American people of their legitimate pride in financing the war."

Statements attributed to the Senator relative to increase in the public debt under the present administration likewise were attacked by Houston.

They indicated, he said, that Senator Harding "knows little of the subject himself and that he is being badly advised."

"The Senator's advisers," Mr. Houston added, appeared "not to have taken the trouble to ascertain the facts or are willing to misrepresent them for partisan purposes."

The statement declared that not only was the public debt not increasing, but that it was decreasing, adding that the treasury's expectation of a lower outstanding gross debt on September 30, compared with June 30, "would be amply fulfilled." Mr. Houston placed the reduction at $325,916,000 since June 30.

PROMISE TWENTY ROUNDS OF BOXING

Twenty rounds of lively boxing is the promise of Promoter Brooks, who has booked Bobby Devore, 138, of Toledo to meet Young Webb, 138, of Clarksville—the young man who appeared in this city a short time ago and made such a good showing against Serra. These two men are scheduled to go ten rounds. The bout is on October 6th.

Six rounds between Phil Barrett, of Columbus, and Kid Laury, of Columbus, also are announced, with a fast four round curtain raiser.

The main bout of the evening as well as the six round go are expected to be lively exhibitions of boxing, as the principals are among the foremost of their weight in this part of the country.

HARTMAN THEATER

COLUMBUS

A feast of tonal delicacies, calculated to tickle the aural palate of the most fastidious, is to be provided at the Hartman Theater, Columbus, O., Sunday night, October 3, when John Philip Sousa and his famous band will play a single concert engagement at that theater. Lieut. Sousa started his band on its career twenty-eight years ago. He was then a famous composer, musician and band leader, but in the years that have followed his initial tour his name has become a national one. It stands for the best in American music, martial, artistic, poetic, patriotic and of universal appeal. His marches are the expression of American feeling and patriotism at their best and they are acclaimed the world over, for they speak a world-wide language. The present tour is a brief one and Columbus is fortunate in being one of the cities selected by the famous bandmaster. Mail orders are now being received.

GREAT CROWD FOR CITIZENSHIP SCHOOL

That local women are taking great interest in the School of Citizenship and are anxious to cast their first ballots intelligently is proved by the large number who have enrolled.

At the second meeting, Wednesday night, both Y. W. C. A. and Red Cross rooms were crowded and the women listened to the speakers with an eagerness which testified to their sincerity.

Mrs. D. S. Craig introduced Mr. E. L. Bush, who made the address of the evening, presenting the main issues of the Republican platform clearly and concisely.

The speaker dwelt at length upon the League of Nations as the predominant issue of the presidential campaign and elucidated the contrasting opinions of the two parties. He presented the stand taken by the Republican party that the League pact, accepted as it is now written, would endanger the independence of America and her sovereignty, and discussed the articles upon which there is the chief difference of opinion.

Mr. Bush said that it was the great desire of the Republican party to make the league safe for America and it believed that America was immeasurably better able to understand its people and the country's needs than any other nation and that it should not be called upon to enter into any agreement which would jeopardize its rights or imperil its privileges.

He also spoke briefly upon the other policies which differ from those of the Democratic party.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, City Librarian, by request, gave a schedule of informative books and magazines available at the Public Library, especially recommending "The Outlook" (Republican); "The Independent" (Democratic); and the Literary Digest as presenting both sides fairly.

Miss Gardner briefly called the attention of the women to the splendid Y. W. C. A. classes and schedule for the coming winter.

Mrs. Craig explained the act of voting as an act so simple that women will wonder it was ever given an anxious thought, and the meeting closed with a demonstration of the ballot box and the marking of tickets.

ANNOUNCING
The First
Exclusive Presentation of Parisian Dress Interpretations

BY

Introducing the
Parisian Vogue for Fall

THIS presentation marks a new and great forward stride in the fashion-service of this store to the community. It marks a new recognition of its importance as a fashion-center—as the source of style in the truest sense for those who, because of their social standing, set the standard of dress for the community.

THIS first presentation of Crown creations, hereafter to be the exclusive privilege of this institution, brings a unique advantage in fashion. It means to the fashionable woman of this community the ability to wear authentic Parisian dress styles at practically the same time as they are first presented in Paris—and with the certainty that they are already adapted to American social requirements and tastes.

The Crown staff of designers—working in Paris, watching carefully every trend of the mode, in closest touch with every move of each creator—is able to anticipate dress fashions, to adapt them to American needs and to send them over with such unequalled speed as to place women anywhere in America on practically an equality in fashion with the style-leaders of the Continent.

This collection presents an absolutely authoritative forecast of French dress fashion for this Fall. It shows the new silhouette, the original decorations, the novel introductions sponsored by France. It includes the smartest fabrics for Autumn, and covers a price-range broad enough to allow of the selection of authentic Parisian creations from the more exclusive to the strikingly moderate in price.

To see this exhibition is an inspiration—and a guide to the selection of every detail of the Fall wardrobe. Will you set aside tomorrow to draw from it every advantage of an advance and authoritative knowledge of what will be worn this Fall?
